State of the Farm

Coastal Roots Farm invites our closest friends, partners, and supporters to State of the Farm, an intimate evening celebrating more than a decade of impact and looking ahead to what comes next.

Guests will hear from new CEO Kesha Dorsey and Farm leaders about the Farm's evolving strategic direction and how we are preparing to meet growing community needs with intention and responsibility.

The evening will feature a beautiful seasonal meal inspired by what is growing in our fields and gardens, bringing the Farm's mission to life through food, conversation, and connection.

About Coastal Roots Farm

Coastal Roots Farm is a nonprofit Jewish community farm and education center rooted in the belief that caring for the land, nourishing our neighbors, and building community are deeply connected.

Each year, we grow more than 80,000 pounds of fresh, organic food annually, sharing over 75% with people experiencing food insecurity.

Through regenerative agriculture, environmental education, food access, and Jewish learning, we create meaningful opportunities for people to connect with the land, one another, and a vibrant sense of Jewish belonging.

Become a Sponsor

This next chapter comes at a moment when our work is especially needed—from rising food insecurity and SNAP reductions to the growing need for connection, belonging, and responsible care for the land.

State of the Farm sponsorship is an investment in that future. Your support helps the Farm nourish our community, engage the next generation, strengthen Jewish life, and sustain our impact for years to come.

Join us in celebrating what we have grown together—and cultivating what comes next.
